FIRE DESTROYS SUMMER HOME

The summer cottage of an 82-year-old Harrisburg resident, Harry Gabler, was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon at about 1 o'clock.

Cash-town and Arendtsville firemen, called to the structure on the upper road to St. Ignatius Church in Buchanan Valley, found the fire had already demolished the building and was burning surrounding trees.

Cash-town Fire Chief Owen Bucher said Mr. Gabler was visiting the cottage for the first time since his wife died six years ago. Gabler, Chief Bucher said, attempted to burn some leaves that had gathered in the front yard, and believed that the fire was under control when he walked to the rear of the house. The fire in front burned under the porch of the cottage. Upon his return to the front of the house Gabler found it in flames.

He went to the home of Gilbert Hartzell, some distance away, the nearest phone, to call firemen. Bucher estimated the damage at "at least $6,000."

6-YEAR-OLD BOY DROWNS TUESDAY NOON

Dale Owen Dolly Jr., six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Dolly Sr., Fairfield R. 1, drowned Tuesday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock at Natural Dam.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said the death was caused by drowning in the waters of Marsh Creek. At first it had been believed the child might have been killed by lightning because a bolt struck in the Natural Dam area at about the moment the child was discovered missing. A family picnic was in process at the Natural Dam recreation area and, when the rain and storm appeared, the picnickers moved to cars.

The child apparently drowned at about that moment.

SERVICES FRIDAY

A search located the body and the Gettysburg ambulance was summoned. Physicians pronounced the child dead, and summoned Dr. Crist.

A member of the Fairfield United Brethren Church of Christ Sunday School, the child is survived by his parents, Dale Owen and Lynn Swayze Dolly, Fairfield R. 1; a sister, Ann Allison Dolly, and two brothers, Scott Dennis Dolly and Mark Lowell Dolly, all at home; and these grandparents and great-grandparents, Mrs. Russell Dolly, Fairfield R. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Swayze Jr., Biglerville; Mrs. Frank Swayze Sr., Trenton, N.J.; and Mrs. Mack Jones, St. Louis.

Private funeral services Friday morning at 10 o'clock from the Wilson Funeral Home, Fairfield, with the Rev. Robert Paden officiating. Interment in Fairfield Union Cemetery. There will be no viewing.

Dedicate 5th N.H. Memorial

Dr. J. Duane Squires, head of the history department of Colby College, New London, N. H., representing Gov. John W. King, Monday afternoon rededicated the 5th New Hampshire Monument before a group of approximately 50 persons. He was assisted by Cleon Heald, executive director of the New Hampshire Centennial Commission, in placing a wreath in tribute to Col. Edward Cross, commander, who was killed July 2 in the Battle of Gettysburg.

Dr. Squires, who is the author of a two-volume history of "The Granite State of the U.S.," spoke on the record of the 5th New Hampshire in the Civil War.

The program included four sergeants from the N. H. National Guard, and Berdan's Sharpshooters Reactivated who fired the salute.

7 Are Killed When Plane Crashes In An Electrical And Hail Storm; 36 Hurt

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A twin-engine Mohawk Airlines plane, straining to gain altitude in a raging electrical and hail storm, crashed seconds after take-off Tuesday. Seven persons were killed and 36 injured, seven of them critically.

"It was like flying into the dead of the night," one survivor said from his hospital bed.

"The wind grabbed us the minute we left the ground," said another.

The Martin 404, carrying 40 passengers and a crew of 3, was headed for Newark, N.J., via White Plains, N.Y. It fell into mud about 80 yards off a runway at Rochester-Monroe County Airport, several miles southwest of Rochester.

An investigation was begun by federal aviation officials.

One wingtip apparently struck the ground, a witness said. The plane bounced, broke in two like a matchstick and caught fire. Airport firemen extinguished the flames.

The dead included the pilot, Capt. Richard M. Dennis, 39, Fairfield, N.J.; First Officer John W. Neff, 33, Wilmington, Del.; and Roy E. Drew, Pelham, N.Y., controller of Sylvania Electric Products Inc.

S.C. MEMORIAL DEDICATED BY GOV. RUSSELL

Flanked by a blue clad contingent of the 9th Massachusetts Artillery Battery on the right and South Carolina's gray garbed Lexington Rifles and Edisto Rifles on the left, Gov. Donald S. Russell, of South Carolina, dedicated the new South Carolina monument on W. Confederate Ave. Tuesday at 4:30 p.m.

For a brief moment it seemed as though the Civil War might start all over again as Congressmen and a May of the Confederate Civil War Commission introduced first Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama who remarked that "South Carolina and Alabama stand for constitutional government and that millions throughout the nation look to the South to lead in the fight to restore constitutional rights and the rights of the states and the individuals."

He was followed by Gov. Endicott Peabody, of Massachusetts, who paid tribute to the South Carolinians memorialized by the monument. "We know something of their bravery," Endicott said, "for just over this rise on Trostle's Hill the brave men from Massachusetts were overwhelmed by Kershaw's Brigade in the fight."

Fourth Will Be Holiday For Many

Acting Postmaster Charles W. Pentz announced that the Gettysburg Post Office will go on holiday schedule Thursday, July 4. There will be no window service and no delivery. The lobby will be open from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. The post office returned to normal 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. service today after extra hours Monday and Tuesday.

Courthouse offices and banks will be closed as will some business places.

Following a long-standing custom, The Gettysburg Times will not be published on the Fourth of July.

Highlights Of Centennial Parade

The first warning rumbles of thunder failed to dispel the anticipatory expressions of the thousands of persons who lined the streets at high noon Tuesday, and there was an attitude of gaiety that ignored the possibility of a drenching. A 10-year-old boy, who had been stationed determinedly in a chair at the curb on Carlisle St. near the Hotel Gettysburg, obviously was not going to be discouraged. His expressions turned suddenly from one of determination to see a parade to sadness and disappointment and, for a moment, appeared to be on the verge of tears. Then the rains came, and he reluctantly moved toward the protection of the building, then disappeared into a doorway.

A contingency of eight horseback riders broke the barrenness of the preparatory period when all traffic had finally been rerouted and disappeared down Carlisle St. Several minutes later a long Confederate flagbearer, his dripping clothes plastered to his body, marched purposefully along, followed by two small boys in partial uniform, half trotting to keep up.

A survey with fringe on top moved the John Burns family to safety . . . and leading the procession of 1863 field equipment such as field powder boxes and mess wagons was a fancy carriage carrying a flashily dressed woman camp follower.

A Union general at the corner of Middle and Baltimore Sts. saluted every military unit in the parade as it passed by . . . despite the heat and wilted uniforms that clung to their steaming bodies, the regular troops were ram-rod straight . . . many women in the audience said they felt sorry for the units marching in the heat, and were reminded by their husbands that "those fellows have to be tough."

"Survivors" Hold Reunion Tuesday

Twenty-five years ago 1,845 veterans of the Civil War held their "last reunion" here on the occasion of the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg. Tuesday evening 12 "survivors" of the battle that assisted with the preparations for that event held a "reunion" dinner in the parlors of the Hotel Gettysburg.

The group reminisced on their associations a quarter of a century ago and Ira M. Wager, of Lebanon R. 4, showed some of the photographs he took during the construction of the two camps where the veterans lived while here.

Others present at the dinner were Col. Coleman B. Mark, Arlington, Va.; Mary S. Herr, Clayton E. Behney, Miriam M. Fisher, all of Lebanon; C. C. Bream, Washington, D. C.; Francis S. Rotunda, Alexandria, Va.; Raymond Strohm, Mrs. Bertha Culp, Mrs. Robert Codori, Mrs. David C. Stoner and Paul L. Roy, of Gettysburg.

The airport's chief controller, Loren Wagner, said "the pilot asked for clearance and the request was complied with." Wagner declined to name the controller on duty.

Will Continue 7 Vignettes Thru Thursday Noon

Thousands have seen the seven vignettes of human interest Civil War incidents and Mrs. Roy W. Gifford, director of the presentations, said today they will be repeated at all locations Thursday morning from 9 o'clock through noon. More than 80 local persons are participating in the historic acts.

The performance at Spangler's Spring "Friendly Enemies" was attended the first day by more than 1,000 persons. Each event is restaged every 10 minutes through the three-hour period. More than 700 persons saw "The Fateful Decision" at Meade's Headquarters and Mrs. Gifford estimated that today's crowds broke previous attendance records.

The events and their locations are: "Brother Captures Brother," on Howard Ave. half way between the Biglerville Rd. and the Mummasburg Rd.; "A Life Saved by a Gentleman," at Barlow's Knoll between the Biglerville Rd. and Rt. 15; "John Burns, Venerable Citizen-Warrior," at the Western Maryland freight station, N. Stratton St.; "Friendly Enemies," at Spangler's Spring; "The Fateful Decision," at Meade's Headquarters on the Taneytown Rd.; "Sharpshooters' Roost," at Devil's Den; "A Valiant General . . . a Noble Man," in Pitzer's Woods on W. Confederate Ave.

IRON BRIGADE MARKS FIGHT

Gathered Tuesday morning at the "Iron Brigade" marker on McPherson Ridge, scene of the first day's fighting here 100 years ago, were 26 members of the reactivated 2nd Wisconsin Vol. Infantry under Capt. Burton Kannenberg, Delafield, Wis.

The smartly outfitted contingent had already participated in the centennial at Hanover and in Early's raid here. They will fight again today in the re-creation of Pickett's Charge. The group ranged in age from men in middle life to youngsters serving as flagbearers. Sgt. Ernest von Frankenberg put the group smartly through its paces prior to the laying of a memorial wreath.

Capt. Kannenberg, sporting an authentic beard, said that he and his group had participated in the first Civil War skirmish in Wisconsin in April, 1961, for which he grew the beard. He intends to keep his whiskers until April, 1965, when the Civil War Centennial officially closes.

The group represents four Wisconsin areas: Racine, West Bend, Madison and Oshkosh. The original unit fought through all three days of the battle here. Capt. Kannenberg is a member of the Wisconsin Civil War Centennial Commission.

FBI Arrests Two Couples Charged With Conspiring To Steal Data On Bases

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT
WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI has arrested two couples on charges of conspiring to steal data on U.S. missile bases and other military information for Moscow.

One of the couples is Russian—the husband is a personnel officer in the U.S. secretariat.

The arrests Tuesday in Washington and on Long Island followed by one day a U.S. order for expulsion of a Soviet Embassy official for attempting to recruit a Russian-born U.S. intelligence official to spy for the Reds. But the FBI said there is no link between the two cases.

HELD WITHOUT BAIL
According to a complaint filed in a New York federal court, the four arrested Tuesday conspired with at least two Soviet military intelligence men to transmit to the Russians information on U.S. military installations and troop movements.

These included top-priority mis-

2 SAPLINGS ARE PLANTED IN CEMETERY

The 141st Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers reactivated Tuesday planted living tributes in the National Cemetery in honor of all war dead, and were honored by the participation of Gov. Endicott Peabody, Massachusetts, who helped to place a wreath on the National Monument where Abraham Lincoln delivered his immortal Gettysburg Address.

A northern maple was taken from the Union prison at Elmira, N.Y., where 3,000 Confederate soldiers are buried. The other is a gumwood sapling from a tree at Andersonville, where Union soldiers were imprisoned by the Confederates.

ACCEPTS GIFTS

In presenting the saplings, Dr. Irwin Richman, assistant state historian, said "These are living examples of the continuity of history . . . and are descendants of the mute, observant witnesses to man's inhumanity 100 years ago." The presentation was accepted by National Park Superintendent Kittridge A. Wing, who said, "These trees mark the beginning of a majestic growth and are a symbol of regeneration of life in the cemetery."

Gov. Peabody said, "No one can speak on these hallowed grounds without feeling the effects of Lincoln's speech. But Lincoln was not the only speaker who appeared here that day nearly 100 years ago." He reminded the audience of approximately 150 persons that troops on both sides of the Civil War "had a common pride in a glorious ancestry and their heritage of great blessings."

23,000 DIE

Continuing he said: "I see a North which still has failed to put into full practice the ideals for which 23,000 of its sons gave their lives on these battlefields. I see a North which boasts about its lack of segregation but still manages to keep the vast majority of its Negro citizens living in one area . . . going to one set of schools . . . and even, to a considerable extent, working at one set or one group of jobs."

Boy, 16, Has His Leg Broken By Tractor

James Walker, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Walker, New Oxford R. 2, suffered a fractured leg about 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when a tractor he was operating ran over his leg at the farm of William J. Moser, near Hunterstown.

The youth told ambulance drivers he was standing on the side of the tractor, steering it, while inspecting the operation of the hay baler being pulled by the tractor. The youth slipped and his foot went under the rear wheel and when the tractor came to a halt he was pinned by the leg and hip under the wheel.

Ambulance crewmen said they had difficulty in releasing the youth to remove him to the hospital. He was admitted as a patient and the Warner Hospital reported today that his condition is satisfactory.

Among Union units were elements of the 6th Infantry Battalion; the 86th New York; 119th Pennsylvania, Ninth Battery; Co. B, 8th Michigan Cavalry; Co. A, 15th New Jersey; Co. D, 100th New York; 2nd Wisconsin; a number of Ohio units and 1st Dragoons of New York.

The SVR and reactivated units were from Vermont, Ohio, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, Connecticut, New Hampshire. Among the units from the immediate area were Sgt. Curvin Heiss's Co. F, 87th Pennsylvania Volunteers, of Gettysburg; Calvin O. Johnson's 1st Pennsylvania Rifles, "Bucktails," of Gettysburg; 1st Sgt. John D. Teeter, Gettysburg R. D., followed the Union troops with a replica of a YMCA coffee wagon which during the Civil War provided refreshments for the troops.

REBELS FIRE CANNON

The Confederate troops provided excitement along the route of the parade by firing a cannon and by one unit firing volleys much as must have occurred a century ago when the Confederates swarmed into Gettysburg on July 1 to push out the Union troops holding the town that afternoon.

The biggest parade crowd in 25 years filled the sidewalks along Route 15 through Gettysburg Tuesday afternoon to witness the longest and most spectacular parade held in the community since the 75th anniversary of the battle.

An estimated 35,000 to 50,000 filled every sidewalk and hundreds of others watched from windows of homes and stores along the way from the southern to the northern extremity of the borough along the parade route on Steinwehr Ave., Baltimore St. and Carlisle St.

The 100th battle anniversary parade took nearly two hours to pass a given point but there was a 15-minute lapse near the end of the procession that caused some of the spectators to leave, thinking the parade was over.

DRENCHING RAIN

A drenching rain that brought a third of an inch of water, pouring down on the community immediately before the parade, sent spectators to the shelter of porches, buildings and stores. Some sat in the rain, not willing to give up a vantage point. As soon as the rain stopped the crowd again filled the sidewalks. The storm delayed the start of the procession.

Accompanying the parade was a fly-over by jet planes of the Air Force.

The procession itself was a display of the nation's military might from the Civil War to the present time. About 1,500 "Confederate" and "Union" "soldiers" appeared in a variety of uniforms of the Civil War period—including some Confederates who marched barefoot, as occurred a century ago.

28TH DIVISION

More than 5,000 members of the Pennsylvania National Guard, including the entire 28th Division and the 104th Armored Cavalry, depicted today's soldiers. The Air Force, Navy, Coast Guard and Civilian Air Patrol were also represented by units in the procession. Four state policemen on motorcycles and six mounted state policemen headed the procession along with an impersonation of President Lincoln.

Grand Marshal Maj. Gen. Henry K. Pluck and aides, Brig. Gen. Herbert A. Vernet Jr., Capt. Albert K. Kuhn and Lt. Frederick H. Heitfuss, headed the parade as far as the reviewing stand at E. High and Baltimore Sts. There the grand marshal and his aides joined the governors of various states, Centennial Commission members and other officials and dignitaries.

The 28th Division colors followed the grand marshal.

Then came the officers of the Union encampment here followed by the colors of the Sons of Veterans Reserves and the Berlin Fire and Drum Corps. About 400 of the Union uniformed men were direct descendants of men who fought in the Civil War, comprising units of the Sons of Veterans Reserves. The SVR units were mixed with reactivated units recreating units of the Civil War and garbed in authentic costumes of the period.

UNION UNITS

Among Union units were elements of the 6th Infantry Battalion; the 86th New York; 119th Pennsylvania, Ninth Battery; Co. B, 8th Michigan Cavalry; Co. A, 15th New Jersey; Co. D, 100th New York; 2nd Wisconsin; a number of Ohio units and 1st Dragoons of New York.

The SVR and reactivated units were from Vermont, Ohio, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, Connecticut, New Hampshire. Among the units from the immediate area were Sgt. Curvin Heiss's Co. F, 87th Pennsylvania Volunteers, of Gettysburg; Calvin O. Johnson's 1st Pennsylvania Rifles, "Bucktails," of Gettysburg; 1st Sgt. Ray J. Gell Jr.'s Co. D, Pennsylvania Reserves of Chambersburg; Sgt. Donald A. Wagner's Battery E, 1st Pennsylvania Artillery of Harrisburg; Capt. George Gruber's G Company 6th Infantry Battalion of Harrisburg, and Maj. Howard L. Dissinger's Pennsylvania Brigade Headquarters of Gettysburg.

TOWN POLICE ARE KEPT BUSY

A lost boy, a few calls to quiet persons who got too noisy for others, plus disorderly conduct cases occupied the borough police during the night and this morning.

Robert Marrow, aged 9, Tuesday afternoon reported to borough policeman Raymond Menges that he was lost. He was soon "found." His parents saw him riding in the borough police car and went to claim him.

Police were called to the bus terminal to quiet an intoxicated person. They quieted the man and put him on a bus. William J. Shea, 31, New York, at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening was arrested on Howard Ave., and paid a fine and costs to Justice of the Peace Anna Thompson on a disorderly conduct charge.

Nelson T. White, Carbondale, a member of the 28th Division, was picked up by borough police and held for military police. When they failed to show within an hour or so after the parade, the local police turned White loose.

Edward Woodward, Harrisburg, was placed in jail this morning charged with disorderly conduct before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

The police call sheet indicated that the town, quite lively with visitors during the evening, quieted down after a 3 o'clock call this morning concerning noise.

Its successor is the new Emergency Broadcast System which will open the entire AM broadcast band — instead of only 640 and 1240 — to broadcasters authorized to stay on the air during any enemy attack.

The changeover is expected to occur Aug. 5.

INFANTRY UNIT GIVES PAGEANT

The members of Company B, 3rd Infantry, of Fort Myer, Washington, D. C., thrilled large numbers of visitors Tuesday night and this morning with presentations of their pageant of flags at the Eternal Light Peace Memorial.

Aided by the Navy School of Music Band, the members of Company B in dress blues marched before the peace light the flags of the 50 states of the United States.

While a narrator told the story of the flags, color guards appeared bearing different flags of the United States, including the original 13-starred flag, the 15-starred and striped flag, and American flags with various numbers of stars.

When the original American flag, with 13 stars, arrived, the names of the 13 states which comprised the original unit were called and the flags of those states dipped. Then as each successive American flag arrived on the scene, the flags of the states that came into the Union, causing those changes in the flag, were dipped.

When the 50-starred flag arrived, its color guard was in colonial uniforms complete with wigs.

Gov. Wallace said he thinks "Pennsylvanians are good Yankees."

The governor, who gained national fame last month by standing in a campus doorway in an attempt to block admission of two Negro students to the University of Alabama, rated a "personal escort here Tuesday. During the parade two Pennsylvania state policemen in plain clothes hovered in the background in case of a demonstration but nothing happened.

Local Police Quell Disturbing Visitors

Borough police officers Cluck and Lamb spent most of today's early morning hours ordering happy people out of town.

At 1 o'clock a group of boys in a station wagon were causing a disturbance in the second block of W. Middle St., but moved on before police reached the area. However, they were able to catch up with the rowdy seven at 3 o'clock, interrupted a song fest on Carlisle St. and escorted them to the north edge of town.

At 4:15 o'clock Tuesday afternoon police turned over to military police Nelson T. White, Carbondale, who had consumed enough courage during the parade to try to stop parading units in the street.

WIRTZ MEETS RAIL LEADERS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, in an effort to avert a threatened nationwide railroad strike next week will meet today with labor and management negotiators.
"We are now in the 11th hour of this dispute," Wirtz said in a statement Tuesday night, referring to President Kennedy's July 10 deadline for settling a dispute over work rules.
At the center of the dispute is the railroads' attempt to remove firemen from freight and yard trains. The railroads consider the firemen unnecessary, and call it "featherbedding." Approximately 40,000 jobs are involved.
Wirtz said there has been no significant progress in more than two weeks of "the hardest kind of bargaining" between the railroads and the brotherhoods, which represent about 200,000 trainmen.
After the President's July 10 deadline, the railroads will be free to put their proposed new work rules into effect.
This would be almost certain to trigger a nationwide strike unless the administration came up with further action to delay it.

MISS AINEY IS BACK AGAIN; HERE IN 1938

Miss Helen L. Ainey, Montrose, Pa., who was here in 1938 as a companion for her aged grandfather who fought in the Civil War, is back in Gettysburg for the 100th anniversary observance.

Miss Ainey, who was in Gettysburg in 1914 for the Longstreet ground-breaking parade when Mary Pickford was the honored guest, also came here that year as the youngest secretary of the Daughters of the Union Veterans ever had.

Her active career has taken her to New York as a "queen for a day" on a radio show, a hitchhiking trip to Alaska, a trip to Mexico with a family who needed a baby-sitter. She has traveled extensively in South America and has visited almost every state in the Union.

Although she has been marching in parades since she was able to walk, she saw Gettysburg's centennial procession from the sidelines Tuesday but labeled it "wonderful." She added: "I think all those wonderfully patriotic Civil War veterans who were here in 1938 would have been proud of the parade in their honor here."

Miss Ainey, who serves as a correspondent for her hometown newspaper and writes poetry and music, is planning to write a book about her travels—and Gettysburg is bound to fill a chapter, she said.

Today the energetic young woman who has been on Jack Paar and Bob Hope radio and TV shows was in Civil War costume to take part in the final day's events of the centennial observance.

Limit Road Work Until Next Monday

Current highway maintenance projects on Pennsylvania's 42,600-mile road network will be suspended over Independence Day to facilitate anticipated heavy flow of holiday traffic, Highway Secretary Henry D. Harrel said today.

All detours, including temporary signs and barriers, will be checked by department personnel Wednesday for the protection of the motoring public.

Patching work and other routine activities will suspend on all major highways today at 4:30 p.m., through Monday, July 5. Maintenance crews throughout the department's 11 engineering districts will confine Friday's work to roads carrying relatively light traffic volumes, Harrel said.

Extra Fireworks On Bill Tonight

The Confederate attack on E. Cemetery Hill and Pickett's Charge on the Union center will be re-enacted in fireworks this evening at the Gettysburg Firemen's festival at Recreation Field.

Double the amount of fireworks is scheduled for this evening after firemen cancelled the festival Tuesday night about 7 o'clock because of rain.

The rain would not have kept customers away, firemen said, but lightning and the fear that the Recreation Field sod would be damaged by cars parking there led the firemen to decide to abandon plans for Tuesday night's edition of festival.

Mt. Hope

MT. HOPE — Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McLaughlin and daughter, Patricia, spent the weekend with the former's sister, Mrs. Dorothy Knepper, Downingtown. Mrs. Knepper accompanied the McLaughlins home for a week's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Metz spent Saturday evening with Mrs. Metz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Klunk, York R. D.

A number of people gathered Friday at the old Virginia Mills railroad station to see "The General" go by. Its unusual whistle could be heard several miles away as it was coming around Jack's Mountain.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Scranton fired the entire board of trustees at Hazleton State General Hospital today in a controversy over the ordered dismissal of a hospital administrator and a hospital worker.

Scranton said he took the action because the board refused to comply with a request from the secretary of public welfare to dismiss Administrator Edmund J. Ferdinand and Joseph Hudock, a laundry worker.

"FREEDOM IS GOD"

Those who live in freedom . . . are blessed beyond compare . . . for freedom is a treasure . . . that all men seek to share . . . men have died to gain it . . . without it we are lost . . . thus mankind must have freedom . . . however high the cost . . . to work or worship as we choose . . . is a priceless thing . . . ask those who seldom ever hear . . . the bells of freedom ring . . . freedom is faith, eternal hope . . . a perfect way of life . . . but if we are to keep it . . . there will be pain and strife . . . it is life's most sought prize . . . the goal of all who trod . . . no tyrant can suppress it . . . because freedom is God.

"I see a South, on the other hand, that is replete with citizens who are working with ardor and determination to bring fulfillment to those ideals which the North championed in that great, agonizing war whose greatest battle we commemorate here today. There still are the flagrant abuses that make the headlines in our newspapers — but behind the headlines, working quietly and effectively are many thousands of southerners who are striving to bring about equal opportunity for all Americans.

DIVIDED NATION

"And while the slavery issue of 1863 divided North and South, the civil rights issue of 1963 unites us. Both sectors of the country have a civil rights problem and both must work with intelligence and zeal to resolve it. Today we need unity more than ever, if our nation, indeed our civilization, is to survive.

"So I think the Gettysburg Centennial, which observes the greatest single action of disunity which this country has ever experienced, should well serve as a time for reaffirming our mutual bonds and our common interests and for rededicating ourselves to working together to make its victory complete."

DIED FOR FREEDOM

Frank O'Gorman, administrative assistant, appearing for Congressman Joseph McDade, said, "The dead buried here died for unity and freedom and the least we can do is live for freedom." He recalled the words of Lincoln promising freedom and equality to the emancipated slaves and "this is the time for solidarity and sacrifice." The freedom which was won on the battlefields of the Civil War "must be real freedom," he asserted, "and while we talk and make noises here today, the voices of those brave souls whose bodies lie beneath this sod are louder than all our voices. They are not dead."

Dr. S. K. Stevens, state historian, brought greetings from Gov. William Scranton and introduced Miss Margery Chamberlin, niece of the governor.

PLACES WREATH

The wreath was placed at the base of the national monument by Gov. Peabody and Gen. W. A. Warren.

The program concluded with the presentation by Col. Raymond Ward to guests. Receiving the governor's honorary commissions as 1st lieutenant in Co. A, 141st Reg., P. V., were Congressman McDade, accepted by O'Gorman; Gen. Morgan, Dr. Richman and Dr. Stevens. Maj. Herbert Rounds was commissioned a lieutenant colonel.

The 141st Reg. P. V. suffered the highest number of casualties in the Civil War and was commanded by a son of Adams County, Col. Henry J. Madill, later promoted to general, who moved as a young man to northern Pennsylvania where the 141st was activated.

The taps were presented by Edward Hughes and his son, Edward, Gettysburg. The firing squad was commanded by Sgt. Maj. Robert Morris. Others who spoke briefly at the ceremony included General-in-Chief of the Confederate High Command Donald A. Ramsay and Col. Daniel Clancy of the Buckeye Blue Brigade.

ELECTED GOVERNOR

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—A suburban Harrisburg youth is the newly elected governor at the American Legion's annual Keystone Boys State.

Eric Robert Myers, 16, of Camp Hill was chosen Tuesday by the 412 boys attending the 10-day summer program.

Myers, president of the senior class and a varsity baseball player at Cedar Cliff High School, was opposed in the election by Chris Seglem of Doylestown.

CALLED TO BLAZE

Gettysburg firemen responded at 1 o'clock today to an alarm at the home of Lester Carter, 314 E. Middle St., after an oil burner in the basement used for heating water overflowed and ignited. The fire was confined to a small area of the basement. Minor damage resulted.

JFK TO IGNORE PLAN TO SEND MAN TO ROME

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy appears likely to quietly ignore a hint that he send a representative to the Vatican.

An indication in a Vatican newspaper editorial that the Roman Catholic Church would like to have a U.S. representative at its headquarters has brought mixed reaction from senators.

There has been no American among the international representatives at the Vatican for 13 years. In 1950 President Harry S. Truman proposed sending Gen. Mark W. Clark, an Episcopalian. There was such an outcry that he dropped the idea.

TO STAND BY PLEDGE

Most members of Congress seem to feel that Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, will stick by his 1960 campaign declaration that he was "flatly opposed to appointment of an ambassador to the Vatican."

Although President Franklin D. Roosevelt set a precedent in appointing Myron Taylor as his representative to the Vatican, few think Kennedy will follow it. Roosevelt named Taylor as his spokesman, but gave him no diplomatic appointment that would have required Senate confirmation.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., commented crisply: "If we can't have prayer in the schools I don't see any sense in sending a representative to deal with the Pope."

"NO SPECIAL REASON"
Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., a Roman Catholic, saw "no special reason why the President should send a representative to the Vatican."

Sen. Claire Engle, D-Calif., said Kennedy ought to give a great deal of thought to it before making any such move.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., said it is up to the President to determine whether he feels he should send a representative.

"If he feels that it should be done, I think he would have the support of Congress," Keating said.

SEES "NEW ERA"

The Rev. Thurston N. Davis, editor of America a Catholic magazine, felt that the climate had changed since the 1950 uproar.

"A whole new era has set in," Davis said. "The Catholic Church now has a good press. Events have changed the view of the Church."

But Dr. Carl Henry, editor of the Protestant Christianity Today, said controversy would be as heated as it was in 1950.

Local Churchmen Going To New York

Harold E. Cluck, Gettysburg R. 4, left by car with his family this week for the eight-day international convention of Jehovah's Witnesses at Yankee Stadium, July 7-14. Mr. Cluck is presiding minister of the local congregation of the religious group.

Most of the members of the Gettysburg congregation will serve as delegates at the assembly. Convention officials have estimated 125,000 persons from the eastern United States, South and Central America, Canada and the Caribbean are expected for the meeting.

"All meetings of the local congregation will be cancelled until after the convention," Cluck said. "Since there is no special selection of delegates for assemblies of Jehovah's Witnesses, whole families attend. In most cases, the entire congregation will go. This requires suspension of our local services for the next two weeks."

$500 Accident On Mummasburg Rd.

OIL CITY, Pa. (AP)—The merger of Zapata Petroleum and Stetco Petroleum with the South Penn Oil Co. has been approved by stockholders of South Penn.

At the same time, stockholders agreed Tuesday to change the name from South Penn Oil Co. to Pennzoil Co. The merger previously had been approved by stockholders of Zapata and Stetco. Zapata stockholders can exchange four shares of Zapata stock for one share of Pennzoil under the merger agreement. Stetco shareholders can exchange seven for one.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. says it will furlough 250 temporary employees at its Pittsburgh Works by the end of this week.

A J & L spokesman said Tuesday only workers with less than 60 days service will be affected.

Highlights Of Centennial Parade

into loud and earnest applause as the jeep carrying Robert E. Lee III drove by . . . the jeep driver assigned to carry Gov. George C. Wallace, Alabama's controversial head of state, made the trip alone.

Crowds estimated at from 35,000 to 100,000—and almost no one will allow his name to be used in the estimate—proved all over again that the Army and Navy bands are still the most popular units of any parade. The precision rifle teams, snapping their rifle butts, in close order parade drill brought bursts of applause all along the route.

Many people expressed concern about a sudden military attack on Pennsylvania as unit after unit of the Keystone guardians of peace did themselves proud in a parade which was about 98 per cent military.

Two young patriots of the Alameda, N. Y., High School Band were overcome by heat in front of The Gettysburg Times building and were taken inside to await ambulance and first aid treatment. The young bugler carefully laid his instrument aside before he became ill. The girl, about 15, dropped her flag with equal care before she fainted.

Dignitaries on the reviewing stand at High and Baltimore Sts. were "well done" by the end of the parade as the sun beat down on them for more than two hours. Massachusetts' Governor Peabody and his party withstood the torture until about 2:30 o'clock before seeking air-conditioned relief in their hotel rooms.

Company G, Maryland, bled for everyone in the battle in their unit which featured wounded and maimed soldiers. The lad who limped is a real-life cripple and despite braces on both legs kept pace throughout the parade.

Quick looks: John Tabor carrying a paper cup of cool drink down the street . . . a pretty blond girl who exclaimed to a friend as a group of handsome young life and bugle corps went by, "Gee, they're cute" . . . Three women, who had reserved curb positions early on Carlisle St. near the Hotel Gettysburg, refused to leave their posts when the rains came and were soaked to the skin within 30 seconds . . . a father carrying three folding lawn chairs and a very large bath towel through Lincoln Square and down Carlisle St. looking for a place to unfold them.

The crowd on Lincoln Square closed in on the parade route from both sides and six state patrolmen constantly kept edging them back to permit the marching units to pass.

Eight local Legionnaires perched atop the two-foot parapet at the top of the American Legion Building on Baltimore St. to view the parade from at least 50 feet up.

Two low-flying jets screamed across the parade route at the courthouse at the peak of the parade, leaving thousands of persons who heard them breathless . . . the few people who saw them reported they "barely cleared the courthouse spire."

S.C. MEMORIAL

ing here. We gather here in the spirit of national unity and national brotherhood so strengthened by the things that happened here that our nation can never be put asunder again."

In his opening remarks Congressman May, "Mr. Confederacy" as he was called by Payne Williams, chairman of the Memorial Committee who presided, said, "South Carolina now joins the hosts of other states in honoring her gallant sons who stood here and fought for principle."

"Yes, they fought for a principle—one so clearly defined in the Constitution of the United States—the right of people to govern themselves as they—the people—so desire. The Constitution of the United States is still the greatest document ever written by human hands, although it has been misunderstood, misconstrued, and misinterpreted by those who seek to divert it to their own selfish use."

Gov. Russell drew a round of laughter from the large audience when he said that he now had a new deep sunbaked understanding of what the troops of both sides must have endured at Gettysburg. He paid tribute to the bravery of the South Carolinians whose deep conviction for a principle in which they believed and which they thought right was climaxed in the tragic struggle that pitted brother against brother.

"Fidelity to principle and deep-seated conviction must chart our lives today," he said. "Our bitter foes, the Communists, have this dedication and conviction. They are ready to sacrifice and die for their way of life. We must have just as firm a resolution and as strong a dedication if we are to prevail. The citizens of the state and of the country must unite and close ranks."

The memorial was unveiled by two youngsters, John Richardson Russell, the son of the governor, and John Amasa Mayo, about four years old and clad in a Confederate uniform, the grandson of Congressman Mayo.

Volleys by the Lexington and Edisto Rifles enlivened the proceedings. The 26th North Carolina Regimental Band played authentic Civil War tunes and the South Rowan High School Band played the Star Spangled Banner.

The state wreath was laid by Mrs. Archie C. Watson, of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Norman Larson of the North Carolina Centennial Commission and Mrs. O. Max Gardner, widow of a former North Carolina governor, placed a wreath for their state.

Plays Lead Role In Summer Stock

Janet Anderson starred in the Gettysburg Summer Theater's third presentation "Woman of Paris" by Henri Becque Tuesday evening.

Dressed in the flowing robes of an earlier era, her Dresden-doll loveliness gave an air of reality to the French farce in which she played the title role. Miss Anderson presented a convincing portrayal of Clotilde, the flirtatious and bewitching wife of a doddering old husband, played with much verve by Richard K. Olsen, who has played three entirely different type of roles in each of the theater's three productions. Charles Plesse, making his second appearance, played Lafont, the doltish lover, a French character almost unbelievable to an American audience. Norman Rice, who has given a good account of himself in the two previous productions, played Simpson, more interested in his hobbies and shotguns than the blandishments of Clotilde. Linda Bucher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis R. Bucher, R. 6, made her first appearance as Adele, the pretty maid, and showed promise of being able to handle heavier roles. Placed in the DuMesnil's drawing room in Paris in the 1880's the properties added considerably to the humorous aspects of the tale.—ETB

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the

The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

75th Anniversary: Formal exercises marking the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg opened July 1 at 2 o'clock at the Gettysburg College stadium after a one-hour concert by the United States Army Band. With Senator John S. Rice, chairman of the anniversary commission presiding, national commanders of the Confederate and Union veterans shared speaking honors, while Governor George H. Earle and United States Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring, extended formal welcomes in behalf of the state and federal governments.

July 2, following a concert by the U. S. Marine Band in the college stadium and with Senator Rice presiding, addresses were given by John M. Claypool, commander-in-chief of U.C.V.; Dr. Overton H. Menzel, commander-in-chief of G.A.R.; Alfred J. Kennedy, national commander of United Spanish veterans; Scot P. Squyres, national commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars; Daniel J. Doherty, national commander of American Legion; and Vivian D. Corbly, national adjutant of Disabled American Veterans.

July 3, while the nation listened, President Franklin Delano Roosevelt dedicated on Oak Ridge an everlasting memorial to peace in America and then stood by while friendly hands from the North and the South brushed aside a barrier to let the rays of the setting sun strike the spark that set aglow an eternal flame atop the memorial. At that hour on July 3, 1863, Lee's army had been repulsed after a valiant but hopeless charge against the Union forces, too shaken by that assault to pursue the retreating enemy. The high water mark of the rebellion had been reached on Gettysburg fields. But on this July 3, the soldiers in Blue and in Gray were drawn up side by side in friendly reunion. Together, a Union and a Confederate veteran lowered the national colors from the memorial that will tell generations to come of their reconciliation and of their pact for eternal peace and brotherhood in the United States. A throng conservatively estimated at more than 200,000 persons, that constantly was being swelled by others arriving after traffic delays on auto-clogged highways, witnessed the brief but impressive ceremonies marking the dedication of the $60,000 Eternal Light Peace Memorial.

July 4 will be United States Army Day with military ceremonies and demonstration by troop of the regular U. S. Army. The day will close at 9 p.m. with a fireworks display from the southern slope of Oak Ridge which will be visible by the veterans from their camp.
Captain Charles Gettys, Battery B, 62nd Regiment of the Coast Artillery stationed at Gettysburg at the present time, is a direct descendant of the Gettys family that first settled in this community and then founded Gettysburg. Samuel Gettys came to this country in 1740 from Ireland and settled in Lancaster. He later moved to what is now Gettysburg and laid out the first plans for the formation of the town. Among his sons were Samuel Jr. and James — the latter the founder of Gettysburg. Capt. Gettys is a descendant of Samuel Jr. in the fourth generation. Edward, William, John Wesley and Capt. Charles Wesley form the line in that order. Capt. Gettys lives in Sheridan, Wyoming. James Gettys, founder of Gettysburg, married Mary Todd, cousin of the wife of Abraham Lincoln. She died three days after James died.TOKYO (AP)—A four-day rain storm that lashed southern Japan killed 34 persons, National Police Headquarters reported today.
Six others were missing and 42 were injured.

THAT SOMETHING IN FACES
Is there anything more wonderful than the human face? What a study!And to think that there have never been two faces exactly alike — never since faces began to appear in the world.
How interesting every plane, every wrinkle, every dimple, or even blemish that has its place on the face. With what wonder the eyes look out from their space. And how much there is in the mouth, the lips, the chin, the forehead, the nose.

But the greatest thing about any face is — "that something" — that something which the artist sometimes, though rarely, gets; that something which makes you instantly trust some and mistrust others; that something which draws you to the whole life of the owner of the face.

I have watched bank cashiers glance quickly at someone presenting checks at their windows, and then hand out money with no hesitation — and then again I have seen them give several glances, and then go back into some room or talk with some bank executive before giving over the money called for by others. Business men engage most of their helpers by an understanding or instinct as to the value back of "that something" in faces.

And that is the way we choose our friends — by "that something" in their faces that makes us want them.

Maybe it is the invisible soul that gives "that something" look. But it is quite inexplicable — most indescribable. It's really nothing but a feeling. But it is there!

I have noticed that the kinder and more lovable a person is, the more fascinating, mysterious and wonderful is "that something" in the face.

ADVISING A BOY
ON MARRIAGEBoy, when you think that you want to get married,
Be sure it is love and not fancy;
Make sure it's the heart, not your eye, this is carried Away with the beauty of Nancy.I am old at the game and I know the delight
Of a maid when your arm is about her;
But, my boy, ere you marry, be sure you are right,
Don't wed till you can't live without her.For marriage is something men enter for life,
For this old age as well as youth's splendor;
And you want to be sure, ere you makes her your wife,
You can always remain her defender.Just stop and consider all wives which you see—
The cross one, the plain one, the fat one;
Could you still cherish Nancy and love her if she Should alter like this one or that one?Well, Nancy, or Mabel, or Florence, or Grace
Will change in appearance, so tarry;
And if you can love her, whatever takes place,
I'd say it is all right to marry.

AL DOWNING PUSHES YANK
LEAD PUSHES

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Fastballing young Al Downing fired the New York Yankees along with a sparkling one-hit pitching gem, and teen-aged right-hander Dave Morehead pulled the Boston Red Sox out of a spin with a two-hitter.

But the Minnesota Twins flexed batting muscle to keep their drive going in the American League Tuesday night.

Downing allowed only a bouncing single up the middle by Camilo Carreon with two out in the seventh inning in pitching the pace-setting Yankees to their fifth straight victory, a 3-0 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

8TH KO FOR TWINS

The 19-year-old Morehead lost his no-hit bid on Fred Whitfield's bad-hop single leading off the eighth inning but brought the Red Sox home over the Cleveland Indians, 6-1.

The Twins scored their eighth kyo in a row, whipping Detroit 7-4 behind the home run power of Bob Allison and Jim Hall. That victory shoved streaking Minnesota into second place, three games behind New York and one-half game ahead of Chicago.

In other AL games, sub Al Smith's hitting led Baltimore over Los Angeles 4-3 and Washington's Bennie Daniels posted his second victory in six days over Kansas City, 7-2.

HOMER FOR ROMANO

The Yanks collected only their second victory in seven games this year with the White Sox and in the process defeated Ray Herbert, who had shut them out twice previously. Tony Kubek singled across the first Yankee run in the third and Hector Lopez gave Downing some working room with a two-run homer in the fifth.

Morehead had a perfect game going at Cleveland until Tito Francona walked with two out in the seventh and a no-hitter in the works until Whitfield led off the eighth with a grounder that glanced off a pebble over second baseman Chuck Schilling's head for a single.

The only other hit off Morehead was a leadoff homer in the ninth by John Romano, just restored to the active list after being out five weeks with a broken hand.

20TH FOR ALLISON

Allison ran his homer total to a league high of 20, connecting with one on in the third as the Twins broke a 1-1 tie at Detroit, and Hall belted a 430-foot three-run shot in the sixth.

Dick Stigman was the winner, with help in the ninth from workhorse reliever Bill Dailey, and Bill Faul was the loser.

Smith, who replaced injured rookie outfielder Fred Valentine in the first inning at Baltimore, singled and scored in the second, singled home a run in the third, and doubled in the Orioles' deciding run in the seventh.

Daniels, whose only two victories this season are over the Athletics, turned in his first complete game in nine starts. The Senators settled things against loser Orlando Pena with three unearned runs in the fifth on three Kansas City errors, a sacrifice and two bloop hits.

ORIOLES WILL IMPOSE FINES
FOR MISCUES

By GORDON BEARD

Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles, apparently tired of their own mistakes, have decided to clamp down on violators with self-imposed fines.

A check list of 25 violations—six of them for pitchers alone and 19 for everyone on the squad—went into effect Tuesday. The fines range from $1 to $5.

"We don't know if it will improve our play or not," said Mike McCormick, the team's player representative and one of four players who drew up the regulations. "But it will make all of us more conscious of our jobs. It's possible some of us haven't been thinking baseball as much as we should."

Almost as soon as the plan became operative, Manager Billy Hitchcock was charged with the first offense when he walked into the clubhouse at 5:12 p.m. That's 12 minutes late, according to rule 19 which says everyone should report three hours before a home game.

OTHER PENALTIES

Once Tuesday's game got under way, Dick Brown drew a fine of $1 for failing to score a runner from third base in the second inning with less than two out.

The $5 fines include such miscues as missing a sign, using profane language before the fans, and mental errors. The last violation adds the notation: "manager and coaches included."

The Orioles, who have dropped 24 of their last 36 games, can be thankful the fines were not made retroactive.

"If we had started this Monday night," Al Smith said, "we'd have $20 in the pot already."

Tentative plans call for donating the money to charity at the end of the season.

The six-game winning streak of the previously unbeaten Pirates came to an end Tuesday evening when the second-place Cardinals took a 3-1 decision at Ardenstville to considerably tighten the race.

A throwing error permitted the Pirates to score their lone run in the bottom of the third inning. In the top of the fifth the Cardinals scored all of their runs on five bases on balls and an interference call. The Pirates threatened in the final inning when they had runners on second and third with one out but John Weikert fanned the next two batsmen to preserve the decision. Weikert and Bushey hooked up in a fine pitchers' duel and both fanned nine.

PIRATES BEAT
PHILS AGAIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Philadelphia Phillies in another close one Tuesday night, 3-2.

Harvey Haddix, replacing starter Vern Law in the eighth, helped preserve the win. He came in with two out and none out, then fanned Tony Gonzales and Wes Covington. Al McBean then replaced Haddix and Roy Sievers hit back to ohny Logan at short. Logan fumbled for an error allowing Tony Taylor to score. Clay Dalrymple then hit into a forceout.

The Phils tried again in the ninth, getting two men on with two away before Johnny Callison popped out to Dick Schofield.

The Pirates picked up two runs in the second on Smoky Burgess' double. Donn Clendenon's triple and Bob Bailey's single. They added another in the sixth on Roberto Clemente's double that drove in Bill Virdon.

Gonzales homered in the sixth for the Phillies' other run.

The teams are idle today, getting ready for Thursday's holiday doubleheader.

MARCHAL IS VICTOR BY 1-0
IN 16 INNINGS

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Not even Carl Hubbell would deny that the Giants have a new Meal Ticket—Juan Marichal.

Exactly 30 years—to the day—after Hubbell, the original Meal Ticket, pitched his greatest game by hurling the Giants to a 1-0, 18-inning triumph over St. Louis, Marichal came up with an amazing similar performance in a 1-0, 16-inning victory over Milwaukee Tuesday night.

Marichal, a strong-armed right-hander who earlier this season pitched a no-hitter, battled for 4 hours and 10 minutes with Braves' starter Warren Spahn, the 42-year-old left-hander. Then, Willie Mays hit one out of Candlestick Park with one out in the last of the 16th, bringing a dramatic and sudden ending to one of baseball's greatest pitching battles.

LA IN LEAD

The struggle also stole the National League spotlight from the Los Angeles Dodgers, who took over first place from St. Louis by beating the Cardinals 1-0 on Don Drysdale, five-hit pitching and Ron Fairly's run-scoring single.

The triumph moved the Dodgers out front by one-half game over the Cardinals, with the third-place Giants another one-half game back. Fourth-place Cincinnati crept to within 2½ games of the top as Gordy Coleman's tie-breaking two-run single carried the Reds to a 6-4 decision over Houston.

The fifth-place Chicago Cubs downed the New York Mets 4-1 and Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 3-2.

Marichal, bringing his record to 13-3 with his ninth straight victory, scattered eight hits and struck out 10. Mays saved him in the fourth inning with a rifle throw from center field that cut down Norm Larker at the plate as he tried to score from second on Del Crandall's single.

Spahn, now 11-4, had pitched 27 consecutive scoreless innings going into the 16th. He had allowed only eight hits and had struck out two while issuing only one walk—an intentional pass to Mays. He got the first out, then Mays hit the first pitch to him over the left field fence and stuck a candle in Hubbell's anniversary cake.

ERROR HELPS CUBS

Fairly got Drysdale, 10-9, the run he needed in the seventh after Frank Howard singled and reached second on Bill Skowron's infield out. That left Simmons' record at 7-4.

Trailing 3-2, the Reds scored the tying run in the seventh inning against the Colts on a run-producing double by Vada Pison, who has hit in 20 straight games. Coleman then came through with his key single, winning it for Bob Purkey, 3-4. Don McMahon, 0-3, was the loser.

The Cubs exploited a throwing error by Mets pitcher Al Jackson, 6-8, scored three unearned runs in the second inning and held on behind the six-hit hurling of Bob Buhl, 7-5. Jackson threw Buhl's bunt away in the second after Andre Rodgers had singled, and a sacrifice fly by Lou Brock, a single by Ellis Burton and Billy Williams' double did the rest of the damage.

BILLIE JEAN TO MEET BRITISH TENNIS STAR

By GEOFFREY MILLER

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Billie Jean Moffitt, with two prized scalps dangling from her belt, braced today for a third giant-killing effort that would take her into the Wimbledon final for the first time.

The 19-year-old tomboy from Long Beach, Calif., met British Wightman Cup star Mrs. Ann Haydon Jones in the semifinals Thursday.

"And I guess this is the most important match of my life," Billie Jean said.

"Ann and I are all square. I beat her in the Wightman Cup in Chicago in 1961. She knocked me out of Wimbledon last year. I guess it's my turn to win again."

OTHER RESULTS

To reach the semifinals, Billie Jean had to knock out two favorites for the Wimbledon crown — Lesley Turner of Australia, seeded No. 2, and former champion Maria Bueno of Brazil, seeded No. 7. The American girl was unseeded.

Last year she upset top-seeded Margaret Smith of Australia in the first round.

Tuesday she cruised to a 6-2, 7-5 quarter-finals win over Maria Bueno. The Brazilian girl won in 1959 and 1960.

In the other semifinal Darlene Hard, also of Long Beach, faces top favorite Margaret Smith.

NEW YORK (AP)—Unseeded Cassius Clay, who stopped England's Henry Cooper in the fifth round as he had predicted, was named "Fighter of the Month" Wednesday by Ring Magazine.

Despite his loss, Cooper, the British and Empire heavyweight champion, was boosted in the heavyweight ratings from eighth to seventh. Clay remained the No. 2 contender behind former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

Pope Paul Pledges Prayer To End Discrimination In Long Meeting With JFK

By EUGENE LEVIN

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI received President Kennedy in a historic audience Tuesday and extended his blessing to all Americans. He said he would pray for the President's efforts to end racial discrimination.

The pontiff, after conferring privately for 40 minutes with the first Roman Catholic American president, told his guest:

"We are ever mindful in our prayers of the efforts to ensure to all your citizens the equal benefits of citizenship which have as their foundation the equality of all men because of their dignity as persons and children of God."

DISCUSSES SPACE

The Pope then turned to space exploration and other topics. He said:

"These past few years have seen impressive developments in the exploration of space to which the United States has made notable contributions. May these undertakings take on a meaning of homage rendered to God, Creator and Supreme Lawmaker. Because they augur so much for the benefit of mankind, may they be indicative of true and peaceful progress which would bring men together in a closer relationship of universal brotherhood."

SUPPORTS POPE'S AIM

"This is what we hear often in the discourses of your excellency, how with candor your words recall the higher moral principles of truth, of justice and of liberty. We find a spontaneous harmony with that which our venerable predecessor, Pope John XXIII (wrote) in his last encyclical letter, Pacem in Terris, when he presented anew to the world the Church's constant teaching on the dignity of the individual human person, a dignity which the Almighty Creator bestowed in creating man to His own image and likeness."

It was at this point that the pontiff spoke of Kennedy's efforts to end discrimination. Then, turning to the subject of peace, he said:

CONFIDENT IN U.S.

"Universal peace in charity and justice can be achieved, and we feel that the efforts of the United States will bear fruit and help to secure for all peoples of this troubled world that peace which will enable them to prosper and to enjoy the blessings which God intends for them. To this end, following the example of our predecessors, we, too, are dedicating our prayers, our energies, and our life."

"We extend to you a heartfelt welcome, and through your excellency we wish to send our greetings to Mrs. Kennedy, to your family and to all the citizens of your country, invoking upon them the abundant blessings of God."

SPEAKS IN GENERAL

Pope Paul read his speech in English after the private audience and after Kennedy presented members of his party, including Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the President's sister, Mrs. Jean Smith.

The Pope read from an armchair, not a throne, sitting at the same level as Kennedy alongside in another armchair. The Pope recalled meeting the President when Kennedy came with his father to the coronation of Pope Pius XIX in 1939. Pope Paul also recalled he had visited the United States twice and commented:

"We were able to experience personally the many admirable qualities which have made yours a leading member of the family of nations. The warm and sincere hospitality which was extended to us wherever we went left upon us a lasting impression."

10-MINUTE AUDIENCE

The papal audience for the rest of the President's party lasted 10 minutes. Kennedy presented the Pope a desk box in vermeil gilded silver, lined in red velvet and with the papal coat of arms and the presidential seal engraved on the lid. He also gave the pontiff a silver-framed autographed photograph of himself.

Pope Paul presented the President a small reproduction of Michelangelo's Pieta, which Pope John had agreed to send to the New York World's Fair next year; a rosary for Mrs. Kennedy; an autographed photograph of himself, and small medals on gold chains for the President's children.

When the audience was over, the Pope and the President shook hands.

KENNEDY LATE

The 35th President of the United States and the 262nd pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church met on the threshold of the papal library at 10:11 a.m.—4:11 a.m. EST. Kennedy had been two minutes late arriving at the Vatican.

After the 65-year-old pontiff greeted the 46-year-old President, the two men immediately entered the library for a private talk.

A crowd described by the Italian state television network as "discreet" watched behind barriers as the President's open black car drove across St. Peter's Square and into the St. Damasus courtyard under a warm sun. Secretary Rusk rode with the President.

Palatine Guards in 19th century uniforms snapped to attention, trumpets blared.

BAND WELCOME

Kennedy and Rusk got out of the car, and the band of the Palatine Guard played "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Vatican ceremonial and protocol attendants greeted Kennedy, and escorted him to an elevator.

Archbishop Gennaro Verolino, secretary of the Vatican's Ceremonial Congregation, welcomed the President.

On the second floor, the presidential party was escorted by papal

ISRAEL'S NEW PREMIER GIVES ARAB WARNING

By HAL McCLURE

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — Israel's new prime minister, Levi Eshkol, has warned the Arab states his No. 1 objective is to strengthen the security of this 15-year-old state.

Thus Eshkol, whose tripartite centrist coalition Cabinet was approved by the Knesset (parliament) last week, served notice stay-tough policies of his predecessor, David Ben-Gurion, who resigned for personal reasons.

Where Ben-Gurion, 76, was inclined to be stubborn and autocratic, Eshkol, Israeli finance minister for 13 years, is noted for patience and an ability to bring together those holding divergent views.

In setting forth his administration's objectives to the Knesset, Eshkol, 67, made it clear he did not expect to be pushed into the sea by his Arab neighbors. While noting that Arab states are bickering in their efforts to unite, Eshkol saw a danger in this unity goal.

Eshkol, like Ben-Gurion before him, believes that only a strong Israel can prevent war in the Middle East. Indeed, one of the last acts of the outgoing Ben-Gurion Cabinet was to approve an additional 10 million Israeli pounds—$3.3 million—allocation for Israeli defense.

Eshkol also promised to continue to strengthen and develop the Israeli armed forces, which under Ben-Gurion won notable victories in 1948 and 1956.

ushers, footmen and Swiss Guards through twisting corridors lined with Swiss Guards.

In the apostolic palace's small throne room Amleto Cardinal Ciconi, Vatican secretary of state, greeted the President and then the President was escorted alone to the papal apartment.

The Pope's private chat with Kennedy lasted for 40 minutes, 13 minutes longer than President Eisenhower's private audience with Pope John XXIII on Dec. 6, 1959.

President Kennedy, first Catholic president of the United States, is the third U.S. chief executive to visit a Pope while in office. Woodrow Wilson had an audience with Pope Benedict XV in 1919.

MOSTLY CATHOLICS

Some 573,000 of the approximate 700,000 elementary and secondary school children attending private or parochial schools in the state are Catholics.

William Bail, executive director of the Catholic Welfare Committee, estimated that 125,000 Catholic students would be affected by the legislation.

Alessandrini, acting as Scranton's spokesman said the governor "expressed sympathy with the problem but indicated it had to bear relation with the state's financial ability to pay" for the service.

He said Scranton "still is waiting for a report on the cost" and would discuss the legislation with his legislative leadership "at the first opportunity."

Always the heart of our business

Why do most drugstores sell everything from breakfast to dance wax . . . ? The answer is simple. It is a matter of economic necessity. Americans, thank goodness, are generally healthy and there are not enough prescriptions to keep all drugstores going. Thus, we sell a variety of merchandise. By so doing we are able to stay open and render assistance whenever and wherever it is needed. Prescription service, however, continues to be the heart of our business and we are always pleased to assist you when medication is needed.

Crowd Of

The 6th North Carolina Regiment, CSA, headed the Confederate units which included the 26th North Carolina Regimental Band of Winston-Salem playing instruments of the Civil War period including one "bombardon," which had the horn back over the shoulder of the musician and which was used here a century ago during the Battle of Gettysburg. The 28th North Carolina unit fired salutes from time to time with muskets as they passed through the community.

The sixteen Confederate horsemen of the Laurel Brigade and the Jeb Stuart Cavalry, also a 16-horseman unit, provided a colorful counterpart to the hundreds of Confederate foot soldiers. Heading the Jeb Stuart Cavalry was Dr. Samuel Kirkpatrick, of Hanover, in full uniform and beard. Following the 1st Tennessee Infantry, Maryland Encampment, the Lexington Rifles, 15th South Carolina, the 1st Virginia and 2nd Maryland CSA units, came the "Hunley" — the Confederate submarine which was the first submarine in history to sink another vessel. The replica is full size. It was followed by the 2nd Brigade of the 13th Alabama Regiment.

A horse-drawn Confederate caisson, four horse-drawn Confederate wagons, and a wagon with a member of the Felicia Grundy Porter Nurse Relief Corps followed the Alabama regiment.

Among units winding up the Confederate section of the procession were Co. K, 5th Virginia Infantry; Co. G, Maryland Infantry; Co. K of Winchester.

WAGON PARTY

A wagon party representing John Burns, Wisconsin and Ohio troops, the Springfield, Ohio, life and drum corps, and a float, "The Ship of State," provided by Gulf Oil Co., wound up the first division.

Descendants of Civil War officers were in 28th Division jeeps dividing the two divisions of the parade. The descendants appearing included George Gordon Meade III, Robert E. Lee IV, George Meade Eston, Charles Heth, Harry M. Lyter, Robert Kemper, Clay Early and Gregory Landis.

SECOND DIVISION

Heading the second division of the parade were General Neely and his staff and the colors of the 28th Infantry Division, followed by the U.S. Army Field Band.

Company B, 3rd Infantry, of the Regular Army and a Coast Guard unit followed the field band.

The 28th Division's approximately 5,000 men were headed by the Headquarters Co. The National Guard unit included the 110th Infantry, 109th Infantry, 111th Infantry, 229th Artillery, 109th Artillery, 166th Artillery, 10th Artillery, 108th Artillery, 103rd Armor, 103rd Engineers, 28th Signal Battalion, 103rd Medical Battalion, 728th Maintenance Battalion, 228th Supply and Transportation Battalion and the various brigade and other headquarters and special units comprising the division, including the 28th Aviation Battalion. Many of the division's units had Gettysburg streamers on their flags signifying the unit fought here a century ago.

ALTOONA BAND

The 28th Division Band from Altoona led the division's troops to the reviewing stand. Then it went to the side and played for the division as it passed its commander, General Fluck. After the division passed, the band re-entered the parade following the 15th Artillery Brigade of the Army Reserve, including the local howitzer battery of the Reserve. ROTC units followed immediately behind the former 79th Division (Army Reserve) units now constituted under other designations, including the 15th Artillery.

The U.S. Naval School of Music Band preceded elements of the 104th Armored Cavalry National Guard unit including Adams County's howitzer battery.

The U.S. Air Force Drum and Bugle Corps and the U.S. Air Force Band preceded members of the Pennsylvania wing of the Civil Air Patrol, who marched, singing in cadence. They were followed by the 10th Infantry.

The Gettysburg Senior High School Band headed the floats section of the procession followed by a float depicting a 28th Division field mess. The Rouss Drum and Bugle Corps of Winchester, Va., preceded a float of the 103rd Engineers, Pennsylvania National Guard, depicting an assault boat in action. The Hanover High School Band played "Marching Through Georgia" while leading the float of the 1st Reconnaissance Squadron of the National Guard's 224th Armored Cavalry from Philadelphia. The float depicted a tank. The South Rowan Senior High School Band of North Carolina preceded the float of the 28th Signal Battalion showing a telephone center. The Central High School Band of Martinsburg, Pa., led the float of the Headquarters

Co., 2nd Tank Battalion, from Connellsville showing a big mortar of the 28th Division.

JOILET HIGH SCHOOL

Joilet High School, a national championship band from Illinois, appeared in uniform reminiscent of the bands of the 1890's and led the float of the 28th Division showing a mine detector.

The Albion (N.Y.) Band preceded the float of Co. A, 1st Battalion, 110th Infantry, 28th Division of Waynesburg and Monongahela, showing tent and equipment of the soldiers.

The Bermudian Springs High School Band, looking cool in Bermuda shorts, was ahead of a float showing a one-man prone shelter provided by the 2nd Infantry Battalion of the 11th.

Television cameramen followed the VFW Kiltie Band of York for some distance and the band won much comment by the radio stations from York carrying the parade live as it marched along the street.

Company A, 109th, of West Pittston, presented a float depicting a rifle team in attack position.

One of the most colorfully uniformed bands in the parade was the Lebanon High School contingent in blue, red, gold and white. Co. B, 1st Battalion, 109th, of Carbondale, had a 81 millimeter mortar section float.

Post 138 American Legion Band of Bethport preceded the float of Headquarters Co., 3rd Brigade, of Scranton showing a command post. An emergency surgery station was the float of the 28th Division preceding the New Oxford High School Band. The 728th Maintenance Battalion had a mobile machine shop as its float.

Most popular float, and the one which had the most comfortable participant, was that of Co. A, 228th Supply-Transportation Unit of the National Guard. It showed a mobile field bath unit with one of the members taking a shower throughout the parade.

The Biglerville High School Band preceded the helicopter float of the 28th Aviation Battalion. The Gettysburg Junior High School Band preceded military police marching and in jeeps.

The last unit was a meteorological station float by the National Guard.

SAY BUILDING PLANS OF SIX SCHOOLS LEFT UP IN THE AIR

By FRED WALTERS
HARRISBURG (AP)—The building plans of six state-aided colleges, universities and medical schools have been left up in the air by recent actions of the Scranton administration.

Gov. Scranton told a recent news conference that he was "not in sympathy with the idea that we (the state) should pay for" buildings put up by the state-backed general state authority in the future.

But it was left undecided whether his rule would apply to projects for which state financing has been requested, but not committed.

It involves about $49.5 million worth of buildings at the Universities of Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh, Temple University, Drexel Institute of Technology and Woman's Medical College and Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia.

The state has committed $2.3 million to design of these buildings and now finds itself in a dilemma over how to proceed.

Should it demand as a condition of going ahead with these buildings that the institutions agree to pick up the tab?

MEDICAL SCHOOLS ADDED

Or should it merely add them to the some $91 million worth of projects already completed or in the works by the general state authority for which no reimbursement has been demanded and simply adopt the policy that no future requests will be accepted without agreement for reimbursement?

When the legislature broadened the scope of the GSA in 1956 to include construction of buildings for state-aided colleges and universities, it gave the department of public instruction power to sublease the projects to the institutions "with the approval of the governor... upon such terms and conditions as shall be agreed to."

The medical schools were added to the GSA list by act of the 1957 legislature.

GIVE BREAKDOWN

The GSA went ahead with projects for them without demanding that the schools meet the annual payments on the bonds issued to pay for the buildings.

Besides the aforementioned six institutions, Lincoln University,

Boy, 10, Is Injured When Hit By Car

McSHERRYSTOWN — Tony Groft, 10, 37 Main St., McSherrystown, received injuries on the left side of his head when he darted in the path of a car driven by James C. Smith, Hanover R. 4, Tuesday.

Tony is the son of Mrs. Rosie Kerchner. Tony and a friend were walking on the pavement across from Earl Martz Motorcycle shop when he darted across the street in front of the Smith car, driving west on Main St.

Groft was treated at the office of Dr. Anthony Tananis and released, but will return to the Hanover General Hospital for X-rays today.

Philadelphia College of Osteopathy and Hahnemann Medical College in Philadelphia have acquired GSA-built structures.

The breakdown for projects completed or in the works is: Pitt, $27.1 million; Penn $25.7 million; Temple, $22.5 million; College of Osteopathy $4.9 million; Lincoln, $4.3 million, and Drexel and Hahnemann, $3 million each.

The GSA spent $1.5 million to purchase land for Jefferson and $287,195 to design a $5.5 million clinical teaching and services building at Woman's.

The latter is among the $49.5 million worth of projects that may be affected by the governor's decision.

The governor's advisers said Scranton has been considering the action for months.

The practice of spending millions at the institutions without reimbursement has been increasing under fire, particularly during the recent legislative hearings on the governor's $963-64 budget.

OTHER PROPOSALS

There was $1,756,000 in the budget to meet the bond payments in the new fiscal year. The payment was $1,058,554 this year and $660,000 the previous fiscal year.

The jump in the new year represents first payments due on several projects.

Besides the project at Woman's, these other proposals are involved.

Jefferson, $14.9 million, basic science and student commons building; Penn, $11.2 million, administration and general service building, physical education facilities, addition to medical school; Temple, $11.4 million, communications building, school of medicine building, central heating system for health science center; Drexel, $3.9 million, addition to basic, science center; Pitt, $2.6 million, dentistry building.

3 POLITICAL LEADERS WILL BE INDICTED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The special grand jury probing charges of corruption in City Hall has recommended indictments for three men—two of them veteran Democratic politicians.

A special grand jury cannot issue indictments and can only recommend they be issued by a regular grand jury.

The special grand jury recommended Monday perjury indictments against John F. Byrne, a Pennsylvania Turnpike commissioner and a prominent Democrat, and David Young, a scrap dealer. The panel also recommended that former city councilman Victor Moore, the other veteran Democratic politician be indicted for extortion.

DENIES CHARGE

Moore, who recently quit as a councilman to become chairman of the gas commission, denied the extortion charge, saying "it just didn't happen." He added, "this is a terrible mistake." In the jury's report, he was accused of demanding from an unnamed builder a $1,000 contribution to the Democratic party in exchange for a zoning change.

The recommendation concerning Byrne arose from a meeting he had with two lawyers at the Democratic City Committee headquarters, the jury's report stated. The report said one of the lawyers was interested in obtaining a zoning change.

DENIES STATEMENT

The jury said that the lawyer said after explaining their request, Byrne left the room. He later returned and said "Jim Clark said this will cost you $1,250," the jury reported. Byrne denied to the jury that he made such a statement, the report indicated.

Clark, who died last year, was finance chairman of the City Democratic Committee.

Judge Joseph E. Gold, who summoned the special grand jury, turned down a request Monday by Byrne to reappear before the panel to correct some of his testimony.

Dist. Atty. James C. Crumlish Jr., also a Democrat, said he will move immediately to have the regular grand jury issue the indictments.

CONVICT TWO BLOOD PLASMA MISLABELERS

NEW YORK (AP)—Three men and two companies have been convicted in federal court of conspiring to sell blood plasma manufactured in unlicensed laboratories.

Most of the plasma was shipped to Cuba hospitals in 1960 and 1961. It was learned that reports of serious reactions in patients there led to an investigation by the U.S. attorney general's office.

Convicted Monday were Sidney Steinschreiber, 44, of Valley Stream, N. Y., who did business as Sidcaps Laboratories; John P. law,

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
LET'S GO NATIVE! When you next visit a pool or beach, observe the barefoot girls as they pass by. You will be astonished by the number who walk with an awkward gait, with heels hammering the ground and toes that come plopping after.

To merely call the performance awkward is to be kind, for it throws the entire figure out of line. The legs, even the prettiest, appear coltish. The rest of the figure, jolted and perked with every step, is certainly not improved.

Perhaps we girls could take a lesson in walking barefoot from the South Sea Island beauties. How they do float along, seemingly without effort and surely without jiggles. To learn their secret, try this action:

1. As you step out, swing the leg from the hip joint, arch the ankle and extend the foot well forward. Those movements place the foot in a position from which the toes and heel can be lowered almost simultaneously to the ground, with the lightest touch.

2. When you lower the foot, let your weight flow from toes to heel. The sequence is, of course, a reversal of the one you make when wearing shoes. But, for the barefoot, it is the natural and graceful movement.

3. Concentrate on an even transfer of weight with each step and on a rhythmic pace. With practice, your stride soon becomes a glide. But although you never go barefoot, practicing the toe-heel action would prove beneficial, as it improves the curve and graceabilities of the leg.

Norman Cappel, operator of a laboratory in West Chester, Pa., was acquitted.

The defendants could receive up to a year in prison and a $500 fine on the misdemeanor conviction. Asst. U.S. Atty. Albert J. Gaynor said this was the first prosecution of mislabeling blood under the 62-year-old public health law.

Earth Crust Is Weak In Sicily

CATANIA, Sicily (AP)—There has always been a weak spot in the earth's crust along Northeast Sicily where volcanic Mt. Etna rises 10,000 feet above the Mediterranean.

Prof. Alfredo Rittman, director of the Catania Institute of Volcanology, says Etna reared up hundreds of thousands of years ago over the cones of a whole series of previous volcanoes there. Part of the cone of the last one before the present Etna can be seen in a lava valley part way down the present mountain slope.

NAACP PLANS INTEGRATION DRIVE IN NORTH

By ULYS H. YATES

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will undertake this summer a nationwide drive to end what it calls "Jim Crow segregation" in Northern schools.

Robert L. Carter, NAACP general counsel, said the drive would concentrate upon local school districts where segregated housing conditions result in schools of predominantly Negro enrollment.

Carter, in an interview at the NAACP's annual convention, also made these points:

1. Gradualism and compromise in the Negro drive for equality is ended. "This convention spells the end to any lingering belief that there can be any slowing down of the civil rights drive," Carter said.

PLAN STATE ACTION

2. The NAACP will work to defeat for re-election any congressman or senator who fails to vote for a civil rights bill at this session of Congress.

Carter said that a strategy meeting of various NAACP state councils will be held Thursday to determine what can be done at the state level to end what he termed racial imbalance in Northern schools.

"I expect to have at the conclusion of the conference a plan and program for the drive," Carter said.

ARRAIGN MAN IN EVERS CASE

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Byron de La Beckwith goes before a state judge today for arraignment on murder charges in the sniper slaying of Negro civil rights leader Medgar W. Evers.

MRS. LODGE ANXIOUS TO GO TO VIET NAM

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—"I am extremely excited about going to Viet Nam," says the new ambassador's wife, Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge. "I am looking forward to it more than I can say."

Now that's the sort of comment you'd expect from a diplomat's wife. It's enthusiastic, gracious, with just the right touch of lady-like gung ho. But with Emily Lodge you can be sure she means it. She wouldn't have said it otherwise.

"It's a fascinating part of the world," she continues the telephone interview the edge of restrained excitement still in her voice. "Cabot and I were there—let's see—when George was a year old. That was 34 years ago. I remember it as a very beautiful country."

TOUCHY SPOT

She concedes they'll be walking into a touchy situation, what with a war going on there against Communist-led guerrillas.

"It's a challenge," she agrees cheerfully, "and that's what makes it interesting. I'm forced out of my supine position. I don't move, you know—" she gives a self-deprecatory laugh — "unless someone pushes me. Honestly, though, I'm terribly excited about going."

She hasn't thought about what clothes to take—"just cool ones." No one will worry, though, when she does make her wardrobe selection. Mrs. Lodge is known for her unerring taste in suiting the costume to the situation.

Putting people at ease is second nature for Mrs. Lodge, a brown-eyed, brown-haired woman in her mid-50s.

CHARMING HOSTESS

While her husband was a U.S. senator 19 years and ambassador to the United Nations seven years, she was a charming hostess, combining dignity with refreshing candor. But she liked to keep out of the limelight.

In 1960 when she traveled with her husband in his campaign for the Republican vice presidency, she described her contribution as "I just pick up things we forget to pack, see that Cabot's fed, that sort of thing."

Since the campaign, she says, "I've just been enjoying myself." She has spent most of the time at their 14-room French provincial home in Beverly, Mass., which looks over the Atlantic Ocean.

Corps at Tarawa during World War II, is being held without bond.

Dist. Atty. Bill Waller of Jackson has said he would ask the death penalty against Beckwith who was arrested June 22 by FBI agents in his hometown of Greenwood.

Evers, state field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was shot to death June 12 as he stepped from his car to enter his home.

Gallant Confederates Cut To Pieces As Pickett's Troops Hit Union Center

EDITOR'S NOTE—The decisive battle of Gettysburg, fought 100 years ago, spread horror and carnage around the little Pennsylvania town and ended with a once-proud Confederate army in retreat, its hopes of penetrating the North in force forever smashed. Here is the way a correspondent at the scene might have reported the climactic battle.

By TOM HENSHAW

GETTYSBURG (AP)—The Union army won a smashing defensive victory today over the Confederate forces of Gen. Robert E. Lee, turning back his invasion of the North.

The climax of the great three-day battle at Gettysburg came at 3 p.m. this hot, humid afternoon when 15,000 Confederates under Gen. George E. Pickett assaulted the center of the Federal line.

They were hurled back with heavy losses after Brig. Gen. Lewis A. Armistead, 46, of Virginia, and 150 men momentarily penetrated the defenses on Cemetery Ridge. Armistead was killed.

Brig. Gen. John D. Imboden late tonight quoted Gen. Lee as saying: "We must return to Virginia."

HUGE LOSSES

Losses in killed, wounded and missing during the three-day battle were estimated at 23,049 for the Union Army of the Potomac and 28,063 for the Confederate Army of Northern Virginia.

The assault by Pickett's division and those of Brig. Gen. Johnston Pettigrew and Maj. Gen. Isaac R. Trimble was launched after one of the greatest artillery barrages ever seen on the North American continent.

About 3 p.m., the artillery fell silent and the men of Pickett, Trimble and Pettigrew began their long march across the valley between Seminary and Cemetery Ridges.

SISTLESS TIDE

"Every eye could see (the) legions," reported Lt. Frank A. Haskell of the 2nd Corps, "an overwhelming resistless tide of an ocean of armed men sweeping upon us!"

"Regiment after regiment and brigade after brigade moved from the woods and rapidly took their places in the lines forming the assault . . . magnificent, grim, irresistible."

The Federal cannon opened fire.

EYEWITNESS ACCOUNT

Confederate Capt. H. T. Owen described the scene like this:

"Round shot, bounding along the plain, tore through their ranks and ricocheted around them; shells exploded incessantly in blinding, dazzling flashes before them, behind them, overhead and among them. "Frightful gaps were made from center to flank, yet on swept the column, and as it advanced the men steadily closed up the wide rents made along the line in a hundred places at every discharge of the murderous batteries in front."

GEN. ARMISTEAD

Gen. Armistead and his gallant 150 reached the Federal defensive wall and clashed hand-to-hand with the Philadelphia Brigade led by Brig. Gen. Alexander Webb, 28.

Armistead died with his hand on a Union cannon; his 150 men were quickly killed or captured; the great Confederate charge rolled back down the ridge and fled across the valley to safety.

Confederate Brig. Gen. Richard B. Garnett also was killed. Brig. Gen. James L. Kemper was wounded and captured, wiping out all Pickett's brigade commanders. Division leaders Pettigrew and Trimble were wounded.

UNION SIDE

On the Union side, Corps commander Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock and division commander, Brig. Gen. John Gibbon, were wounded. Gibbon's division of Hancock's corps bore the brunt of the assault.

It's raining tonight as Gettysburg as Lee prepares to begin the long, sad march south with his beaten army, a wagon train of wounded 17 miles long, down muddy roads and across swollen streams.

It is believed that Maj. Gen. George G. Meade will make no effort at pursuit. His cavalry commander, Maj. Gen. Alfred Pleasonton, told him tonight:

"I will give you half an hour to show yourself a great general. Order the army to advance, while I take the cavalry and get in Lee's rear, and we will finish the campaign in a week."

"How do you know Lee will not attack me again?" asked Meade, and he added: "We have done well enough."

Quilt Lists Names Of School Alumni

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Latest addition to permanent furnishings in the home of the president of Ohio Wesleyan University, Dr. Elden T. Smith, is a quilt.

It was made over a period of years by Mrs. Mary Haverfield Kevan, member of an alumni organization in Southern California and bears the names of 87 alumni and others associated with Ohio Wesleyan University.

Names on the quilt range back to the class of 1888 and up to the class of 1970.

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—State police reported Tuesday they apprehended two teenagers from nearby Garrett who allegedly fired a rifle at a 22,000-volt line which fell and started a brush fire Friday.

Widow, Son File $165,000 Suit

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A $165,000 damage suit has been filed against a Philadelphia firm in behalf of the widow and son of a painter electrocuted in a Beaver County shopping center.

The suit was filed in U. S. District Court Tuesday for Mrs. Lucinda O. Rebecca of Glencoe, Belmont County, Ohio, and her son, Robert F. Jr., 2.

Robert F. Rebecca Sr., 19, was electrocuted last July 9 when a metal ladder he was standing on touched a high tension wire at the Northern Lights Shopping Center in Baden, the suit contends. The Pennsylvania Northern Light Shopping Center, Inc., was named as defendant.

On the Union side, Corps commander Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock and division commander, Brig. Gen. John Gibbon, were wounded. Gibbon's division of Hancock's corps bore the brunt of the assault.

WALLACE GETS NEW STATURE IN ALABAMA

By REX THOMAS
MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—As an Alabama political figure, Gov. George C. Wallace may have emerged from the University of Alabama racial crisis a taller man than ever before.

His "schoolhouse door" stand against the admittance of three Negro students to the university, although unsuccessful, is the reason for a greater prestige.

Wallace still clings to the hope that, somehow, he will convince the federal courts that the three Negroes were illegally admitted to the university, where Confederate officers trained a century ago.

APPEAL COURT
Recently, the university board of trustees, of which the governor is ex-officio president, asked the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals to set aside the District Court order which put the Negroes in

Pa. School Reorganization Bill In House On Tuesday

HARRISBURG (AP)—The compulsory school reorganization bill will be put before the House Education Committee for a vote next Tuesday, Chairman Edwin D. Eshleman said today.

Eshleman told The Associated Press he plans to present the bill in the form it passed the Senate Tuesday.

The upper Chamber approved the measure on a straight party vote, 27-23.

Republicans held firm against hours of Democratic attacks, including three amendments aimed at strengthening the amendment-riddled measure that bears a tattered administration banner.

On the main Democratic amendment, Republican Sen. Jack E. McGregor of Allegheny broke ranks to support it, but otherwise the GOP majority solidly opposed the minority's assaults.

One amendment would have ripped out an exemption inserted by the Senate Education Committee for districts drawn in compliance with standards of a 1953 voluntary reorganization act.

That exemption, and another one inserted by the GOP senators Monday for districts adjudged capable of offering a comprehensive educational program, virtually stifled the original plan of the administration and all but nullified the program adopted in 1961.

"The bill isn't the way I would like to see it," Eshleman commented, "but I can live with it."

"Rather than fool around with it and possibly lose it altogether, I expect to present the bill to the committee next Tuesday morning as it was approved by the Senate."

The House convened alone today. The Senate, after disposing of the long-pending reorganization issue has adjourned until Monday.

In other major action Tuesday: Escheats—The House approved a bill setting a limit of 22 years for the state to claim unowned monies under the escheat laws.

Civil Service—The House State Government Committee approved the administration's bill to make civil service coverage of state employees uniform, including some 50,000 of the 80,000 state jobs.

Strip mining—The Senate Mines Committee approved a slightly-revised version of the House-passed bill to strengthen control of bituminous strip mining.

School reorganization—Democrats claimed the school reorganization plan approved by the Senate would establish "a gerrymandered setup based on wealth and social status."

They said Gov. Scranton had run out on a campaign promise to oppose repeal of the 1961 act which has been under assault for almost two years.

Sen. Robert P. Casey, D-Lackawanna, said the revised bill would deal "a mortal blow" to the cause of school reorganization.

The 1961 act and the Scranton plan designed to supplement it set 4,000 pupils as the ideal minimum size of new school districts.

Sen. Paul L. Wagner, Senate Education Committee chairman school.

Much of the praise in the state for his refusal to leave the schoolhouse door until federalized National Guard troops marched onto the campus is based on the absence of mob violence Wallace had sealed off the university with state troopers and had National Guardsmen on standby duty before they were called into federal service.

Encouraged by the support, the governor has intensified his determination to withhold Alabama's electoral votes from President Kennedy in next year's election.

He traveled to Jackson, Miss., to help organize a companion independent elector drive there.

If the two states, and possibly others, do rebel against the national Democratic party again, Wallace may head a states rights presidential ticket.

The goal of an unpledged elector campaign would be to force the election into the House of Representatives, Wallace has no illusions that he could be elected on a third party ticket.

But he may have other political ambitions—perhaps the U.S. Senate. Or a second term as governor starting in 1971. The state constitution prohibits the governor from succeeding himself.

One critic who disagreed with Wallace's promised defiance was Alabama's Lt. Gov. James B. Allen.

After the crisis, Allen told a Montgomery civic club Wallace had "matured as a statesman. He laid aside some political considerations and reached full political maturity."

COURT ISSUES NEWS RULING ON RADIO MEN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pennsylvania Supreme Court has ruled unanimously that radio stations and other competitors cannot use local news from a newspaper without the newspaper's permission. The justices said if they do, it's a violation of property rights.

In a decision handed down Tuesday, the court stated, "If the news company can establish by proof that the broadcasting company has, without authority, used the local news items gathered through specialized methods and by the trained personnel of the news company, such unauthorized use constitutes a violation of a property right."

The case concerned a suit by the Pottstown Daily Publishing Co., which prints the Pottstown Mercury, against the Pottstown Broadcasting Co., operator of radio station WPXZ.

NO "USURPATION"

The Supreme Court upheld Montgomery County Court's denial of the broadcasting company's motion to dismiss the newspaper's complaint. It also ordered the costs placed on the broadcasting company.

Noting the competition between newspapers and radio and television stations, Justice Benjamin R. Jones said, "The protection which the law affords to competition does not and should not countenance the usurpation of a competitor's investment and toil."

The broadcasting company had sought dismissal last January. Its lawyers argued that the newspaper should have filed the action in federal courts, under copyright laws. It also claimed the newspaper had no property right in the news.

RADIO VIEW REJECTED

The Supreme Court agreed that the copyright law cases should be pursued in federal courts, but stated state courts have jurisdiction over "a violation of a property right and a claim of unfair competition."

The court upholding the lower court ruling stated that a property right is a subject of an unfair competition action.

The lawyers for the radio station argued that property rights were lost by copyright and "there can be no unfair competition of a property right constituting injury to that particular property right."

The Supreme Court rejected that view.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM BILL'S FATE IN DOUBT

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Scranton administration's civil service reform bill is gaining ground but still faces doubtful prospects for passage in the view of GOP backers in the House.

Rep. Alan D. Williams Jr., R-Bucks, who will be one of the principal floor managers for the bill when it comes to a vote, estimated Tuesday that the GOP majority was about evenly divided on the issue.

Rep. George R. Heffner, R-Schuylkill, chairman of the State Government Committee which approved the bill Tuesday, stated flatly that the proposal "has an uphill fight."

Livestock Exchange Will Be Continued

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Closing of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Packers and Stockyards Division office here will have no effect on operation of the Lancaster livestock exchange, Walter M. Dunlap Jr., secretary, said Tuesday.

"The change will not affect in any way the operation of the Lancaster stockyards," Dunlap said.

The Agriculture Department said Monday its division office here is one of 13 to be closed in a re-alignment. The five-member staff here will be moved to Newark, N. J., which will have supervision for this state.

The office had been located here for about 10 years.

TED KROLL IS GETTING READY

TORONTO (AP) — Ted Kroll, 42-year-old Fort Lauderdale, Fla., veteran who won the Canadian Open Golf Championship in Montreal a year ago, came off a practice round at the Scarborough course Tuesday and went to work at chipping.

Kroll was jovial, but serious about his game.

"Let's say I broke 100 in that round," he said with a grin. "My chipping has been bad, look at this."

He then gave a good imitation of a man with the jitters after each chip. But to emphasize his current weakness, he placed the ball six feet from the green, barely chipped one from there and sent his next clear across the green.

"That's what I've been doing right along," he said. "It can't be, because I quit smoking a couple of months ago. Physically I'm feeling fine and I hope to get fired up enough to win this tournament."

He opens defense of his title in a field of 156 today.

STATE BELLS TO RING OUT FOR LIBERTY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Out in Natrona Heights, Allegheny County, Mrs. Clarence Jones will affirm her patriotism Thursday by ringing a five-pound brass bell, about the size of a coffee pot.

The bell has been in her family for 58 years. When she was a young girl, working a milk route for her parents, the bell was a picturesque fixture on her horse-drawn delivery carriage.

Now, in reviving that old-time pleasure, Mrs. Jones is helping to express a Fourth of July spirit reminiscent of the verve with which Independence Day was celebrated in the early years of the Republic.

In response to official proclamations, cities and towns of Pennsylvania will ring bells, in concert with cities and towns elsewhere across the country, for a spell on Thursday afternoon.

The nation's attention will be focused on Philadelphia's Independence Hall where, although the famed Liberty Bell itself cannot be rung, the ring-out for freedom celebration will take its chief inspiration.

Climaxing Philadelphia's annual freedom week celebration, and taking on added import in this liberty-alert year, Vice President Lyndon Johnson will speak from the shrine. His will be the main part of an hour-long program.

At Pittsburgh, the American Wind Symphony will give a concert from a barge on the Allegheny River. One composition, entitled "Fire Works," by Toshiro Mayuzumi, is designed to be played while skyrockets are launched from the decks of the barge.

At Latitz, in Lancaster County, tradition will be perpetuated in the 121st annual candlelight ceremony starting at 9 p.m. in Springs Park culminating in crowning of the queen of candles. The theme of this year's ritual will coincide with Gettysburg's 100th anniversary observance of the decisive Civil War battle there.

Football Star Has Witty Kickoff

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Mike Kelly is football coach at Jacksonville Rialto High School and a former University of Florida end.

His wife, Janice, gave birth to a boy on June 29 and the announcement read, in part: "Already a triple threat in kicking, crying and bubbling, this CENTER of attraction is kept under constant GUARD and is eager to TACKLE a bottle. There is no END to the appetite, and baby sometimes come BACK for more."

Allenberry Is Playing Comedy

"Sunday in New York" which opened at the Allenberry Playhouse, Boiling Springs, on Monday and will play through July 13, is a light-hearted romp built around the adventures of a naive, small town girl who, having exhausted the supply of eligible young men back home, comes to New York in search of a husband. Petite Ann Wills, Allenberry's ingenue, has been cast as Eileen Taylor, the small town girl. Margaret Janney, Director Richard North Gage's assistant, and William McKereghan have important dual roles. Each will portray five wildly divergent roles as they help set the stage for the various scenes, a New York apartment, a Fifth Ave. bus, a street corner, a Longchamps restaurant, a movie theater, a Japanese restaurant and a Ferrari automobile. David Brubaker, Don Draper and Peter Ratray round out the cast of this work of Norma Krasna, who wrote such hilarious comedy hits as "Dear Ruth" and "John Loves Mary." —ETB

McKEESPORT, Pa. (AP) — Norval J. Harrison, 66, of nearby Elizabeth fell some 30 feet from a tree he was pruning in his yard Tuesday and suffered a fatal skull fracture.

July week favorite, is bound to attract another thumping crowd. Holiday travel is booming, especially that bound for seashore or mountains, welcome haunts after more than a week of intense heat.

Bourbon, Mo., was named by railroad workers camped there, because of their fondness for the bourbon rationed out to them in the 1850s to prevent desertion.

Seriously Sick In Special Ward

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (AP) — Seriously sick patients of both sexes receive treatment and nursing in the same ward under a revolutionary system adopted at Magherafelt Hospital, County Londonderry.

As their condition improves, they are channeled to separate wards. Hospital authorities claim the advantage of the idea is that it helps the specialists concentrate their work at the point where most attention is needed.

"We were told the mixing of the sexes would cause a public outcry but this has not been the case," a hospital spokesman claimed. "The arrangement has worked very smoothly and operates to the advantage of patients."
